BAE SYSTEMS, plc;
BAE SYSTEMS Inc.;
AL-YAMAMAH ARMS DEAL,
Payments to Saudi Arabian Officials
Foreign Corrupt Practices Act of 1977

Captioned investigation has been opened to determine whether BAE SYSTEMS, plc, made corrupt payments to present and to former officials of the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia to assist in obtaining and retaining a lucrative arms contract (AL-YAMAMAH ARMS DEAL) the company had with the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia.

In 1986, the AL-YAMAMAH ARMS DEAL was entered into between the United Kingdom government and the Saudi government, and there have been several amendments to this deal since 1986. In connection with this deal, BAE SYSTEMS plc, through the use of intermediaries (both individuals and companies) and various British and Swiss bank accounts, has allegedly made corrupt payments to Saudi government officials.

The investigation is focused on payments to two individuals. The first focus is on payments made for expenses and things of value, and possibly a stipend, to [REDACTED] including expenses for his travel in the United States. The second focus is on payments to [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] It is believed that these payments were directed in part to Riggs Bank in Washington, D.C. at accounts in the name of the Saudi Embassy for which [REDACTED] had drawing rights.

There is reason to believe that other BAE agents may have committed acts in the furtherance of payments to [REDACTED] while in territory of the United States. It further appears that at least one BAE agent committed acts in furtherance of the payments to [REDACTED] while in the territory of the United States.

Captioned investigation was opened based in-part on information provided by [REDACTED] Possible violations include FCPA, conspiracy, wire fraud, and money laundering.

Hi [redacted]

I hope that you are well and that wherever you are its not too hot, its cold, wet and windy here.

Sorry to bother you but some situations never seem to go away. You may recall that I mentioned sometime ago that the specially produced brochure I gave to yourselves was not returned with the other material and there are no other copies. A situation has arisen where the brochure would be of great use. Is it possible that your archivist could locate it and that it could be returned to me please. I seem to recall that the brochure was landscape shaped with 20/30 glossy pages.

Investigative Importance

The DOJ probe will focus on whether the company, by using US banks, violated the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act and US money laundering statutes. The laws prohibit bribery in soliciting contracts and bar companies involved in such practices from the US market. This is necessary to level the playing field for all contractors, including US contractors [REDACTED]

b7E

DOJ advises this will be the largest FCPA case to date involving billions in bribes. The largest one up to now is the Baker Hughes case which involved $2.4 million in bribes. They were fined $26 million.

Synopsis: To provide a synopsis of WFO's ongoing investigation concerning BAE and request FBI Headquarter's approval to open an investigation concerning BAE payments made to Saudi Arabia government officials.

Details: BAE Systems Plc (BAE) is the largest defense production company in Europe, with its headquarters established in the United Kingdom (UK). BAE has representative facilities on five continents, to include North America (the United States). In the United States, BAE is the seventh largest defense company. BAE employs approximately 88,000 people world-wide and boasts over 100 new inventions each year. In 2006, BAE's annual sales exceeded £13.7 billion GBP ($25.4 billion USD) and spent in excess of £1.2 billion GBP ($2.1 billion USD) in annual R&D.

In May of 2006, an Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA) investigation was opened by WFO concerning BAE. At the time the FBI was opening this investigation DOJ advised that [redacted]
